

Michelle Channing, MA, MLIS

Coordinator, K-12 Access & Outreach

Michelle Channing holds a Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education, a Master of Arts in Reading (K–12), and a Master of Library and Information Science, all from the University of South Florida (USF). In her current role, she coordinates a variety of College of STEM events such as Experience Y Day, STEM Fest, and K–12 school field trips. She is also responsible for organizing summer camps and professional development opportunities for educators at the Williamson Innovation Park.

Before joining Youngstown State University, Michelle spent 24 years with the Sarasota County School Board in Sarasota, Florida, where she taught students in grades 2 through 8. During her tenure, she served as a team leader, a member of the School Advisory Council, a mentor teacher and a supervising teacher for USF interns.

Most recently, she earned her Remote Pilot Certificate for Small Unmanned Aircraft Systems and is excited to engage with students who are interested in exploring drone technology and its applications in the workforce.
